Wealthy Horse Fanciers.

New York Letter.
Among our leading horse-fanciers are August Belmont, William Astor, Pierre Lorillard and his brother George, also Bonner of the Ledger. Belmont is fond of fine animals, but has never spent much money in their culture. He has raised some good stock and contented himself with the distinction of being the first capitalist of this city that gave attention to this specialty. He is, indeed, the only man in this country of Hebrew birth who has shown such taste in horseflesh. William Astor was for a time much interested in racing matters, but his failing health has weaned him from the turf, and he has given preference to yachting. He has, however, a number of fast animals, which are under good keeping while he is on the cruise. Bonner's connection with equine matters is due to necessity for outdoor exercise. During the early time of the struggle which preceded his brilliant success he suffered from intense application, and his physician advised him to buy a horse and try an hour's ride daily. He bought the best animal within the reach of his purse, and soon found a rising ambition, which grew with indulgence, until he astonished the world by paying $10,000 for the fastest team of that day. This (which took place in 1859) was, however, only the beginning, and Bonner has now half a million invested in horseflesh, and has paid $30,000 for one animal. He has a very extensive stable on Fifty-ninth street, the land alone being worth $40,000; but this is only for home accommodation. The farm, near Irvington, contains the most important part of his stud, which has for some years numbered 100, and often more.

The Use of Wealth.

Peck's Milwaukee Sun.

There are thousands of rich men who are not skinflints, who have the reputation of being so, because they have never been known to have done a special good thing with their money. A man who is worth $50,000 can do more to make himself loved and respected by all with whom he comes in contact, by the judicious expenditure of a thousand dollars in charity, than by giving the whole fifty thousand dollars after he is dead. It seems as though it would be mighty small consolation to a millionaire to leave money to some charitable purpose after death, and he so confounded dead that he couldn't see the smiles his generosity had created.

Suppose a millionaire who has never had a kind word said to him except by fawning hypocrites, who hope to get some of his money, should lay out a beautiful park, worth a million dollars, and throw it open free to all, with walks, drives, lakes and everything. Don't you suppose, if he took a drive through it himself and saw thousands of people having a good time, and all looking their love and respect for him that his heart would be warmed up and his days be lengthened? Wouldn't every look of thanks be worth a thousand dollars to the man who had so much money that it made him round shouldered? Wouldn't he have more pleasure than he would in cutting off coupons with a lawn mower.

Is Death Painless.

N. Y. Sun.

Dr. Thomas D. Spencer argues, in the Popular Science Monthly, that in most cases death is painless. "It is a physiological process," he says, "and ought to be free from suffering. When the flat of death went forth, Nature kindly provided an anesthetic for the body. As the end of life draws near, the respiration becomes slow and shallow, interrupted now and then by a deep, sighing inspiration, as though the lungs were vainly endeavoring to throw off the palsy creeping over them. As the intervals between the inspirations grow longer, the blood becomes saturated with carbonic acid gas—the same as that formed from burning charcoal, whose deadly fumes have so often aided the suicide painlessly to destroy life." Dying is therefore very much like gently falling asleep.

A Prince's Pique.

N. Y. Sun.

Some feelers of the public purse as to the possibility of giving the Prince of Wales an increased allowance or a bulk sum to pay off his debts are put out, but there would be greater danger in touching so delicate a subject. Unpleasant remark would probably be made by Mr. Labouchere and the disciples of Truth on the parsimony of the Queen, who, out of her immense public allowance and the large private fortune she has accumulated, refuses to contribute to the great expenses imposed on the Prince of Wales in the discharge of duties which properly belong to her. Otherwise the Prince's popularity, which is very great, as evidenced by his reception on all public occasions, would doubtless carry a great through.

Slaven's Effervescent California Fruit Salt

Is prepared from sound, ripe fruit, by an experienced analytical chemist, who has spent years in experimenting on its preparation. It is manufactured by a special process known only to the proprietor. This preparation is a safe, simple and effectual medicine for regulating the action of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It removes all eruptions from the skin, and has a cooling and invigorating effect on the system. The FRUIT SALT is entirely different from any of the effervescent Salts or Sedative preparations in the market, being manufactured from Fruit. For sale by apothecaries and druggists.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask your physician if you can afford the sake of saving so little, to run the risk of doing nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the last year. It relieves cough, and whooping cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For lame throats or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists, Reno, Nevada. nov-20-d&w

Honored and Blessed.

When a card of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases, the most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.

Throw Physic to the Dogs.

A great portion of the suffering and distress in this country is due to the fact that the people take too much physic and too many drugs if you want to preserve your health, save doctors' and druggists' bills, use the California Pine and Eucalyptus Porous Plasters for all pains. ## PARTY HARMONY.

There are newspapers in Nevada that seem to think that the little dispute in New York is of more importance than the great chasm that divides the Democratic and Republican parties. The Enterprise has made a humiliating display of temper, while other papers have been unreasonable in their condemnation of those who sustain the administration. We would not like to see free speech cease to be one of the distinctive features of the Republican party, and we recognize the fact that there are large numbers of Republicans who are tired of machine politics. Let them say so and make all the converts they can. Mr. Conkling's methods are endorsed by many Republicans. They have a right to express their opinions. But we must remember that the principle of civil service reform is no part of this fight. Robertson's nomination was not called for by any needs of the Government. The President had the right to make it, and he exercised the privilege. Conkling had the right to oppose it, and he did so in his own way. There is nothing of national importance in it, and nothing to interest Nevada unless it is that somebody has to toady to Senator Jones for poking his nose into other people's business. Nevada is naturally Republican by a thousand votes and if our self-appointed leaders will allow it we will all stick together and hold the fort; but we do not want to see them trying to tear us to pieces about a little matter several thousand miles away. Let New York run her own business and let us run ours. If she wants Mr. Conkling to go to the Senate she will say so, and if she doesn't he will probably remain a private in the Republican ranks. If he sees fit to desert the party it must try to get along without him. But let us not forget that we joined the Republican party because it represents the principles that we believe will make our government greater and juster, our country more prosperous and our people happier than those maintained by Democrats. Let Republicans keep that point always in view.

THE STATE'S DEAF MUTES.

This paper recently published a review of State finances during the present administration. The exhibit was published because it was a matter of interest to every taxpayer, and the situation demands attention and intelligent comment. The papers of this State have published the gist of our statement, and not one has contradicted the accuracy of the premises laid down, or the conclusion drawn therefrom. They were briefly as follows: At the convening of the next Legislature the State will have spent the cash on hand and exhausted its borrowing power. We desire the financial officers of this State to make answer whether this is true or not. Their present indifference is born of ignorance or confessed wrong-doing. Which is it? We have taken up this question for the benefit of Nevada. There is no election pending, but the personal record of certain officers is in question, and the people shall have every word and line of it. We have waited decorously for the State officers to explain or find defenders. We will wait a little longer. The stone walls of the Capital at Carson are very thick. The people build it, and want to know what is going on inside. They shall be informed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Troy Daily Times puts a quietus on the story that Vice President Arthur was born in Canada. He says: "Rev. Reuben Winegar of Port Jackson told your correspondent yesterday that in 1831 he and his wife visited Fairfield, Vt., and were guests of Rev. Mr. Arthur, the father of Vice President Arthur, and while there Mr. Winegar held young Arthur, then a child six months of age, in his arms. When asked whether the Vice President was not born in Canada Mr. Winegar replied, 'No, sir; he was born in Fairfield, Franklin county, Vermont, where his father was stationed as a Baptist minister.' Mr. Winegar is a Baptist minister 75 years of age and says he has been acquainted with Mr. Arthur Sr., since 1838."

A woman belonging to the sect called Perfectionists undertook to run herself to death at Dallas, Texas. She got the idea from a Scriptural passage about "running the race to the end," that if she ran till she died she would go direct to heaven.

There are women even in this country who seem to be running themselves to death. At any rate they do nothing else.

Can anybody explain why railroad car painters use such horrible combinations of colors? It seems as if they chose the ugliest, old-fashioned ornaments they can find, and then lay on the color regardless of rule or taste. They put on red, yellow, green, blue, black, brown, pink and gray all on one square foot of surface.

Tunis may be said to be in a complete state of anarchy. The British government is no longer recognized. Apparently the rebellion will spread there wherever the French are not in occupation. This state of affairs must lead to complete French annexation, the only alternative being evacuation.

Man is frail, and woman is very selfish. Rapp moved in Cincinnati polite society; yet it has been put in evidence that he kicked his wife out of bed because she failed to polish his boots. It is but just say that lazy women cause a large amount of the world's misery.

Boys in Blue.

A Company of soldiers arrived this morning from Angel Island where they have been quartered for seventeen months. They go to Bidwell to relieve the company now on duty there and ordered elsewhere. The company is commanded by Brevet Major Wells, of the 8th Infantry. Their ambulance was expected from Bidwell to-day, but did not arrive. The boys in blue are camped in Evans' field, and will remain two or three days awaiting transportation.

Robbers Captured.

William Manning, the Comstock jeweler, went to San Francisco in response to information that his lost valuables had been found. Joseph Sanders and Charles Angelo, two well-known thieves, were arrested yesterday by detectives for robbing the store of William Manning, of Virginia City, on the 11th instant, of $2,500 in jewelry. All of the plunder, except about $400, was recovered.

Major Joseph Magrean, an old and prominent pioneer, started on the 15th instant from Canyon City for the mountains to hunt elk. His horses were found tied up in the timber, about 20 miles beyond Canyon City. Search has been made for the missing man, but no traces can be discovered.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

NEVADA.

Eureka's new railway is to be begun this week. The Bullion of Paradise Company shipped Wednesday from Winnemucca one bar of bullion, valued at $1,270 51. Thomas J. Owens died at Benton on Tuesday last. Mr. Owens was formerly Secretary of the Sierra Nevada mine, and also for the Overman mine.

The Elko Independent says: A sack of crude bullion, valued at $1,500, from A. Primeaux for the Bank of California, arrived at the express office, by stage from Tuscarora, July 20. Lieutenant Hutton, who has been Quartermaster at Fort McDermitt, has been ordered to join his company at Camp Bidwell. Lieutenant Knox has been assigned to fill the place vacated by Lieutenant Hutton.

It is reported that the Richmond Company is declaring extra dividends to its shareholders in London, in order that there shall be no great surplus in the treasury in case Albion wins the fight at Eureka and demands restitution for ores extracted from the disputed ground.

The Oshin shaft is passing into a softer and more favorable formation. Eureka Leader: The surveyors of the Eureka & Colorado River railroad are busily engaged between this point and Pinto. As soon as their lines and grades are established, which will be before long, between 200 and 300 graders will be put to work and the road will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

THE FORTY-MILE DESERT.

Historic Ground with More Bones Than a Battlefield.

Twenty years ago the great American Desert was the terror of the overland immigrant. It was written up in a sensational way in Eastern papers and in letters to friends. It was impossible to go around it for it extended from the Colorado to the Cascades. All the routes that led to the land of promise crossed it, and it was soon covered with the bleaching bones of stock and dotted with human graves. Numerous disastrous attempts to cross further south demonstrated that the most feasible road was the one that lies close to where the overland railroad now runs. It is about forty miles from the lower end of the Humboldt sink to the Truckee river at Wadsworth, and the name, "Forty-Mile Desert," given to this stretch, has become known the world over. There is no water fit to drink on the whole distance, and it is a very hard day's drive for cattle or a heavily loaded team. A great many cattle were lost unnecessarily in the first rush to California, by people who got nervous and did not know how to manage. They frequently laid a day or two at the Humboldt, and started out to cross the desert in the night. They then had to keep going all the next day in the hot sun, and took the worst of the road when the animals were in the poorest condition. Large bands of cattle are frequently driven now, and losses are very rare. They start out in the morning and drive leisurely during the heat of the day, stopping for a good rest at noon and in the evening, when night comes on, they are pressed forward and get in next morning. The road lies through a sandy sage-brush plain, extending several miles west of the lake, where it strikes an alkali desert, in the center of which the railroad has a station, that it appropriately calls "White" Plains. This the lowest point east of the mountains. Eight miles further is Mirage station, which might serve as a memorial to the unfortunates who have been betrayed from their proper course by the picture of running water, waving trees and green fields, that existed only in the deceptive air. Near the middle of the journey is a boiling hot spring at the foot of a mountain, and large beds of salt lie near, from which B. F. Leete and the Bonanza mines put up and ship large quantities to market. The desert has killed all vegetation for a long distance around, leaving the flat old lake bed as bare as a floor. Between there and Wadsworth are some very odd formations. The body of the country seems to be a light yellow substance, probably diatomous, over which lie high ridges of brown hills. The level places are strewn with heavy rocks of all sizes, as black as coal. There is no timber anywhere in sight, and even the sage-brush is of a scanty growth and inferior size. On either side are the ever monotonous brown mountains, carved and grooved by centuries of wear by wind and frost into fringes of stony lace. The railroad has made frequent attempts to get water for its engines but without success. They bored 1,800 feet at Hot Springs, but got only a brackish mixture of liquid alkali. They haul water in tank cars for their section men between Lovelock's and Wadsworth, and the engines make the run with one tankful, a distance of 61 miles. They formerly carried an extra car behind the engine with two wooden tanks to draw from, but new engines have been built with tanks that hold 3,700 gallons. They frequently run 75 miles without stopping, and Nick Cole made a hundred mile run once. It is a very pleasant comparison for the rich '49er who rides in the palace car over the ground where he walked along with sore and tired feet, urging his oxen out of the thirsty desert half a lifetime ago.

At Verdi.

Judge Bowman and Pat Henry, of Verdi, are in Reno. The mill of Katz & Henry in Dog valley is running at full blast and averaging 33,000 feet per day. The Verdi Planing Mill is also crowded with orders. E. B. Smith, one of the proprietors, says he is boss and so is everybody else that deals with the concern. Ben Bacon says that Verdi needs revision very badly.

Incorrect.

Assessor Flannagan says there is no foundation for the Chronicle's assertion that Washoe's assessment roll will be several hundred thousand dollars larger this year. He thinks Washoe will hold her own.

A NEVADA NOVEL.

A True Story of the Lives and Loves of a Sage Brush Family.

The romances that are put in good shape by the novelist and newspaper excite great interest, while those in real life are going on all the time, are not seen by one in a dozen, and yet truth is stranger than fiction. Few plays or novels have so much real incident and so strange changes as recently occurred to a little family in this State. It consisted of the father and mother and a bright little boy. They are well thought of and go in good society. The father has always been a model man. He uses no tobacco, never drinks or swears and never made his wife jealous. They were married in an eastern State, and lived there and here in comfort and in apparent happiness. Not long ago one of those strange changes that sometimes comes over the wayward human heart turned the wife's affections away from her husband to center on a bachelor neighbor. She asked her husband to give her a divorce, but he refused as he said he had no ground. She told him that she loved another man better. He said with a laugh that that didn't amount to anything, and the pleasant relations that had existed between all the parties remained unbroken, so far as the neighbors could see. The bachelor was very attentive, and the lady gave him every opportunity while the husband manifested an utter indifference. The bachelor waxed rich in cattle and his trade in merchandise increased, while the husband, by close attention to business, was providing for his family and gathering together a few head of stock that were adding to his frugal fortune. The dead lock was at last broken, however, and just about the time the bachelor went out of the cattle business by disposing of 425 head to his rival in the lady's affections, she was granted a divorce. Whether the divorce figured in the trade as a valuable consideration may not be susceptible of proof, but it is freely claimed that it did. The husband made a trip to the county seat, and took home the divorce and a license for marriage in the same pocket, and at the wedding of the happy pair he danced and ate cake, but drank no wine as he seemed happy enough with out it. He kept the little boy but allowed him frequent visits to his mamas new home. The novel might close with "and they lived happily together forever after," but for the oddest part of the whole story, which is to follow. A little infant appeared upon the scene a few months after the marriage, and the new husband sent the old one a bill for nurse and doctor fees and it was promptly paid. Since that the first husband has been married to a handsome young lady, and the only draw back to her happiness is that her friends jokingly tell her that she is in danger of being traded off for a band of horses. What this story lacks in detail it makes up in truth.

Lecture.

Professor Woodman will give but one lecture during this visit to Reno, and that will be on astronomy. By means of the precession of the equinoxes he will illustrate and show how the leading moulding events of civilization have been measured in the zodiac. A large number of sacred poems will be illustrated, hanging events past, present and future, upon different constellations of stars, as mnemonic signs of the events. This lecture is everywhere well spoken of by the press. At the Baptist church, Tuesday evening July 28th, admission 25 cents.

The Press Recused.

The town scavenger tackled the GAZETTE man last evening because of one or two slight reflections on the condition of his horse which had been sung at him. Ware threatened to use his blacksnake, and the newspaper genius said if he didn't look out he would fire off a whole barrel of the GAZETTE into him. Joe Jones interfered just in time to save an application of the blacksnake.

Savage Trustees.

The Hoedick-Keating combination was successful at the election of Trustees of the Savage Mining Company yesterday—103,261 shares were voted. Trustees elected—J. B. Russell, Geo. J. Ives, H. M. Levy, M. Hoedick and D. T. Lazure, who elected the following officers: President, H. M. Levy; Vice President, D. T. Lazure; Secretary, E. B. Holmes; Superintendent, R. P. Keating.

TRUCKEE TRUCK.

Specially Assorted and Reported for the Gazette.

J. L. Lewison & Co. have on exhibition at their store a box of bullion, weighing 3 lb and 20 oz., taken from 16 tons of rock, crushed in four days. It is from the North Star claim in the Meadow Lake district, and controlled by the Messrs. Giffin of Truckee. It is to be sent to San Francisco to be assayed. G. W. Giffin thinks it will realize $13 to the oz.

It was pay day at the factory of the Truckee Lumber Co. on Tuesday. Their pay roll amounts to a large sum. They have now about 150 men in their employ.

The citizens of Truckee are treated to a free lecture every evening, delivered by an old blind negro prelogist on the sidewalk. Prior to the lecture the audience is treated to several negro melodies. Last night the boys made it unpleasant for the lecturer, with firecrackers, etc.

The Sission & Leavitt novelty combination will appear here on Friday and Saturday evenings.

The weather at present is delightful, being quite warm in the middle of the day.

P. Sweeney, who has been here several years with J. F. Moody, has accepted a position with Jay Parks, at Wadsworth.

The third crop of strawberries is being received daily from below. They are much finer in quality and flavor than the first crop.

Rev. W. C. Gray of Virginia City, is stopping in Truckee at present. He is visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Moody.

The boarding house of Jno. Millett was entered by tramps on Wednesday evening. They did not succeed in getting anything very valuable. The ladder was the only thing that suffered.

The Truckee Lumber Co. is running its mills and factories to their fullest capacity—working 12 hours every day. They are literally overrun with orders for boxes. The company is now adding 200 feet of store-room to its already large establishment.

Mr. Johns and family passed through for San Francisco on Wednesday. Mr. Johns is Superintendent of the Pumas Eureka mines.

Mootz's Mistake.

About noon to-day Gustav Mootz, the harness maker at Lee's stable, was visiting Gunther's saddle shop. Noticing a breech loader in one corner, Mootz became possessed of a desire to know what was in it. He found out. The charge cut several whip lashes, and stocks to pieces and sought the open air through the window. The information which rewarded Mootz's inquiry will cost him about $30.

"Oh, Lord!" said Blakeley, looking at the shot holes in the ceiling. "If I was tall I should have been mortally wounded."

Where is the Rest of the Boom?

The GAZETTE has reliable information that the Central Pacific is drawing up the plans and specifications for a car shop forty by seventy feet, which is to be erected at Reno immediately. Mr. Scott, superintendent of the carpenter work, will send men as soon as he gets the order to go to the job. The doors and windows have been ordered. The rest of Reno's boom will be along on time. The Asylum is under way, the railroad is going and the mines are not abandoned. Reno's future is assured.

Conkling Has Retired.

Special to the GAZETTE.

ALBANY, July 22.

Lapham received to-day in Joint Convention the full Republican vote and was elected United States Senator to fill the Conkling vacancy. The Democratic vote was cast for Potter. There was much cheering and enthusiasm over the prospect of a united Republican party.

Melted Silica.

Prof. Woodman performed some interesting experiments with the blow pipe to-day. He succeeded in melting silica by the use of bicarbonate of soda as a flux. He drew the melted silica out in threads which would have made a black spider turn green with envy.

Masonic Building.

The contract for the proposed addition to the Masonic building was let to-day to Geo. Troy and Peter Burke. The addition will be 25 feet in length, making the entire building 100 feet long. The work will be completed in about one month.

Plenty of Fun and More of It.

It is a well known fact that water charged with gas from pure bicarb soda forms a more agreeable drink than water with gas from marble dust which most manufacturers use on account of its cheapness. That is why Queen's soda water is the best to be had in Reno, and as good as any in the United States.

Good Grass.

Al. Longley brought in this afternoon the finest sample of red top and timothy hay ever grown in this State. Some acres will cut three tons at one mowing. Longley has cut 216 tons of grass hay from 125 acres, and will show his 40-acre field against anything in the State.

Train Dispatchers.

Nothing has been done with the Sacramento train dispatcher who caused the smash-up a week or two ago. Hereafter the force of dispatchers at Oakland wharf and Sacramento will be increased by one at each place, making hours shorter, and insuring greater safety.

A Fixture.

Johnny Cunningham has sold out his business to Mr. Leadbetter, late of Virginia City. On his arrival here he bought two choice lots, built a fine residence, and is now a settled institution. Come on Comstockers, a hearty welcome awaits you.

Resigned.

Frank Bell has resigned his position as Division Superintendent on the Western Union Telegraph line. The resignation will take effect on August 1st, and the office will be discontinued. Reno hopes that Mr. Bell may still make his home here.

Nearly an Accident.

The young son of A. T. Rice was thrown from his seat on the milk wagon and fell between the horses. A bystander rescued the little fellow before he came to much harm, although his face and head were severely bruised.

Miss Proudfoot's Lovers.

N. Y. Sun.

Miss Proudfoot is one of the loveliest girls in Southern Kansas, and a year ago was the recipient of much admiring attention from the opposite sex; but now there is a disposition on the part of the young men to stay away from her. The change is caused by the fact that three of her suitors have received gunshot wounds while in her company. It is not known who the assassin is, but he is supposed to be somebody who, being unable to secure the prize himself, is determined nobody else shall do so.

Abraham Lincoln's Creed.

When a member of Congress, knowing his religious character, asked him "why he did not join some church?" Mr. Lincoln replied: "Because I have found difficulty, without mental reservation, in giving my assent to their long and complicated confessions of faith. When any church shall inscribe over its altar the Savior's condensed statement of law and gospel, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself,' that church will I join with all my heart."

A Fragment of Life.

When one breaks camp in the morning, he turns back again and again to see what he has left. Surely he feels that he has forgotten something. What is it? It is only his own thoughts and musings he has left, the fragments of his life that he has lived there. Where he slept on the boughs, where he made his coffee or broiled his trout over the coals, where he drank in the little brown pool in the spring run, where he looked long and long into the whispering branches overhead; he has left what he cannot bring away with him—the flame and the ashes of his life.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I had up a small fortune in hiring stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her. She is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W. Detroit Mich.
